

Your Birthday

by STELLA

AUGUST 7

BILLIE BURKE

This is the birthday of Miss Billie Burke, the popular and charming wife of Florenz Ziegfeld. Miss Burke was born when the Sun was in Leo and the Moon was in Scorpio, denoting magnetism, determination, resourcefulness, emotional force and ability to rule others; also, a great desire to excel. Mars, planet of energy; Jupiter, star of prosperity and success, and the occult Uranus were all in the sign Libra, denoting wealth and popularity, while Venus was with the steady Saturn in Cancer, the sign of public success. Moreover, five planets were in cardinal signs, a sure indication of public success, prominence and power.

Now, that we are accustomed to the radio, it is easier for us to understand how we may be affected by vibrations from far-distant stars without being conscious of the fact. Not only is this so, but we are also affected by the things which surround us, for our response to their vibrations may be sympathetic or discordant. It is probable that all things are radio active and that each mental state even has its own rate of vibration, and we all know the depressing effect that some people have upon us. This is what I meant when I said that Leo people are able to help others because they have a good vibration, which has a beneficial effect upon other people. Bearing all this in mind, it does not seem so foolish to say that certain things are lucky for certain people, and that the ruby is the most fortunate stone for Leo people to wear, that their color is orange, their metal is gold, their flowers the helianthus and gailardia, and their best numbers 19 and 21.

EDINBURGH BLIND RIDE FREE ON STREET CARS

EDINBURGH (By U. P.).—Edinburgh is proud of being the first city in the world to provide free rides on the street cars for all blind people.

It is a courtesy extended to all blind people whether rich or poor. On the outskirts are large workshops for the blind. The employees live all over Edinburgh and the remission of street car fares is said to save the individual something like $300 a year.

the evidence and testimony already in hand, but that it would not be ready for two or three days.

Testimony Missing

If some of this testimony is missing, as is anticipated, Mr. Simpson will have some difficulty in checking up stories which are told him by old witnesses.

Besides the story of the "woman in orange," which remains secret, no new important evidence has yet been revealed by Mr. Simpson's conduct of the investigation. It is possible that he is having trouble with the state police, even though he has denied that he is getting any opposition.

Friction Reported

At 11 o'clock yesterday morning he was expected to issue a statement which he had previously announced would charge the state police with failing to co-operate with him. This statement was not issued, however, and nothing more was said about it.

Later in the day Mr. Simpson declared he was getting "good results" and Major Kimberling of the state police also admitted he and the prosecutor were working "hand in hand."

Six witnesses were examined yesterday by Mr. Simpson, giving the prosecution the busiest day it had so far. It was revealed that the five warrants had been issued by Justice of the Peace Sutphen.

Among those questioned was Barbara Tough, the close-mouthed Scot maid who was in the Hall house at the time of the murder. She asserted that the intimacy of Rev. Hall with Mrs. Mills was "common knowledge," and that the servants often joked about it. She "did not think" Mrs. Hall knew about the affair, however.

Affair Well Known

Barbara also said that the affair was well known among the parishioners, which all those previously questioned have denied.

Other witnesses examined were Dr. William H. Long, Somerset county physician; Mrs. Maria Gildea, who was cook for the slain clergyman; Peter Tumulty, gardener-chauffeur for the Hall family; Mrs. Minna Clarke, organist of Dr. Hall's church, who was erroneously reported to be missing, and Raymond Schneider, a youth, who found the bodies and was sentenced to the Rahway Reformatory for falsely accusing Clifford Hayes of New Brunswick of the murder.

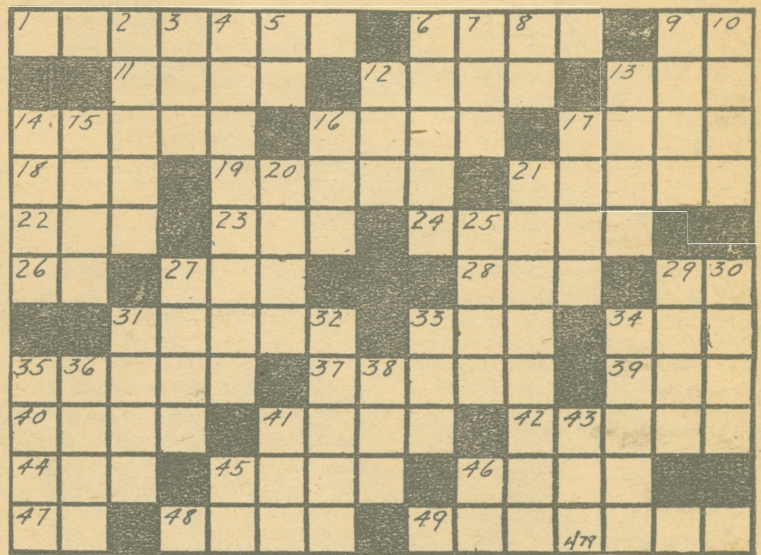

The five warrants, according to Mr. Simpson, name Ralph V. Gorsline as an accessory to the murder; Mrs. Nellie Lo Russell as a material witness, Mrs. Jane Gibson, Barbara Tough, Tumulty and Mrs. Gildea.

Bodies Hurriedly Buried

Dr. Long asserted that he had not told Detective Ferd David, "Don't talk so much," while they were examining the bodies at the scene of the murder. The physician also declared that the Rev. Hall and Mrs. Mills were rushed to the graveyard for burial before an autopsy could be held.

The statement of Miss Tough that Mrs. Hall was in complete ignorance of the murder is significant, according to Mr. Simpson.

Miss Tough told the special prosecutor that Mrs. Hall was called on the telephone after the bodies had been discovered.

Warned by Mrs. Hall

"Dr. Hall is out of town," Miss Tough declared her mistress said. "No, no, don't tell me anything over the telephone."

Later, Mrs. Hall told Miss Tough: "Wash some socks for Dr. Hall."

Permission has been given to Mrs. Louise Geist Riehl, former here yesterday.

maid to the Halls and an important witness, to leave the state so that she can obtain work in New York. Mrs. Riehl says she is "sick and tired of being questioned about the Hall-Mills murder."

FADED DOCUMENT BASIS OF $20,000,000 CLAIM

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 7.—(By U. P.).—Twenty millions left by Mark Hopkins, one of the "Big Four" pioneer railroad builders of the West, who died in 1875, are sought by 137 new claimants on the basis of a faded piece of paper, just discovered, bearing what was represented as Hopkins' only will, filed for probate by P. B. McCandless, an alleged grand-nephew, here yesterday.
